Mad Cow - creutzfeldt jacob

Cattle should not be fed any part of other cattle or pigs or other mammals. All of this should have been banned 20 years ago. This agency knew of england's problems back then and took no sufficient, safe action.

This agency instead worried about rich cattle barons gold shekels when these same rich cattle barons are doing criminal, harmful things. this agency should be protecting the american consuming public. Harm to every american citizen and to world should be the thing to avoid via a food consumption path.

Those rich cattle barons will kill everyone to enrich themselves if this agency lets them get away with it.
